

Shine Your Cadillac

Evans Blue

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

You can shine your Cadillac another way
With the last drop of spit that was left in my mouth
I was watchin' all your TV shows
The night I said, goodbye unto the world I know
So raise your chin and raise a glass
Say here's to winning this again and again
Say I don't care what it costs
Is this the wealth that sells the skin?
I faced more lanes, we lose again and again
Say I don't care what it costs
You can dye your hair tonight another way
Too much the color of the ground that I am buried in
I was reading all your magazines
I have something until you took it from me
So raise your chin and raise a glass
Say here's to winning this again and again
Say I don't care what it costs
Is this the wealth that sells the skin?
I faced more lanes, we lose again and again
Say I don't care what it costs
Will you hang me from you?
I might as well and just because
God knows I have not been moving for three days now
Say I don't care what it costs
So raise your chin and raise a glass
Say here's to winning this again and again
Say I don't care what it costs
Is this the wealth that sells the skin?
I faced more lanes, we lose again and again
Say I don't care what it costs

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>