

A Life Worth Living

Marc Broussard

To know how to live a life worth living
Picked the story and made the roof
Go together with change daily
For a generation just like me and you
No doubt that we would make it
With the love only the world can hold
And despite all of the odds against us
Harder for the world to let her go
Don't want to let go Oh the way it brings the day they came for me, babe
With a love so strong that it took a hurricane
To try to wash away the pain in baby's family
As if they could, as if they would
Feel the pain in losing me
Started out in small town Louisiana
Getting married before seventeen
After waiting on her daddy's promise
Promise turned into a dearest dream
The years filled up with their sin
And the family branches grew
Maybe in Daryl's love was light come shining through Oh the way it brings the day they came for maybe
With a love so strong that it took a hurricane
To try to wash away the pain in maybe's family
As if they could, as if they would
Feel the pain in losing maybe Oh I . sprain was nothing
You just feel that friendly creep
And if dying's just like living
It was maybe who took the lead
To live a life worth living
Oh the way it break the day they came for maybe
With a love so strong that it took a hurricane
To try to wash away the pain in maybe's family
As if they could, as if they would
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>