

Love All The Hurt Away (With George Benson)

Aretha Franklin

Oh Baby, oh baby, oh baby
I see myself in your face, a reflection of pain
Somebody made you cry over and over again
Still you and I made it through all of this for a reason
Yes, we did

Could it be that we created affair for all seasons'Cause you and I were meant to be lovers

The search is over for us, there's no other

We're finally at the rainbow's end

Baby, together we'll mend all the cracks in our heart

And just love all the hurt away

(Love the hurt away)Woman, you are the thing that I hoped and I prayed for

You gave your love and I'm happy like never before

Love and I love it

You be the strength and I'll be your shoulder to lean on

You can lean on my shoulder

Building a world and fill our whole place with our love songs'Cause you and I were meant to be lovers

The search is over for us, there's no other

We're finally at the rainbow's end

Baby, together we'll mend all the cracks in our heart

And love all the hurt away'Cause you and I were meant to be lovers

The search is over for us, there's no other

We're finally at the rainbow's end

Baby, together we'll mend all the cracks in our heart

And just love all the hurt away

(Love the hurt away)Love all the hurt away

(Love the hurt away)

And love all the hurt away

(Love the hurt away)Yes, we're gonna love

We're gonna love, baby

Yes, we're gonna love all the hurt, baby

We're gonna love, love, love, love, love, love

(Love the hurt away)

All the hurt away

Songwriters

WALDEN, NARADA MICHAEL / COHEN, JEFFREYPublished by

Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc., Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>