

Turn Your Heart Around

Candlebox

Lately I've seen a change in you
Something's wrong I think you've seen it too
I've always known, that both sides are strong
We need to give in but it's taking us so long
I won't pretend you're taking the hardest way up

I've been left in ruins cause something set you off again
Whatever I've done was never meant to become destructive
To everything we both put in

Lately I've seen a change in you
Something's wrong I know you've seen it too
I've always known, that both sides are wrong
We need to believe in but it's taking us so long
I won't pretend you're taking the hardest way up

I've been left in ruins cause something set you off again
Whatever I've done was never meant to become destructive
To everything we both put in

It's always too much or never enough
I can't always be the only one
To sever all ties or relive the old lies
Darling we both know I've been
Trying to turn your heart around
I've been trying to turn your heart around
I've been trying to turn your heart around

I've been left in ruins cause something set you off again
Whatever I've done was never meant to become destructive
To everything we both put in

It's always too much or never enough
I can't always be the only one
To sever all ties or relive the old lies
Darling we both know I've been
Trying to turn your heart around
I've been trying to turn your heart around
I've been trying to turn your heart around

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by DAUGHTRY, CHRISTOPHER A. / HENNESY, SEAN ROBERT / MARTIN, KEVIN COLIN

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>