Under Stars

Phil Roy

I'm only sad because there's somebody else kissing your lips under stars
That used to be mine and yours.
Stars that don't shine like before,
Images of happy days still pass before my eyes memories and every dream could mean so much,
They hurt so much.
I'm only sad because there's nobody else needs you the way that I do.
Why did I have to lose, how can I face another day without you here?
Images of happy days still oh, memories and every dream could mean so much,
They hurt so much.
I'm only sad because there's somebody else taking my place under stars
That used to be mine and yours, used to be mine, used to be mine.
Stars they don't shine anymore, they don't shine anymore.
