Jimmy Eat World

Take me clear up, toss me off
The tower that is forty stories tall
So I'm plastered to the floor
I must confess, I'm not impressed
With your everlasting line
Take draw, take a look, now
Watch me melt from a man into a boy
And I'm always on the honor society
With everything and anything around
But no attention drawn
Make me, I'm just curious
How and why we shouldn't be amazed
(So don't ask why)
Tucked in slick back, heart-attack
Yet no one seems to care
Take me clear up, toss me off
The tower that is forty stories tall
So I'm plastered to the floor
I must confess, I'm not impressed
With your everlasting line
