Together All the Way

Levellers

You taste a drink in your hometown you smile for the things you've known that's when you were playing games you couldn't hope to play todayDare you look to the future the speed the pages turn today your hope for tomorrow is to smile anyway todayDon't pray to a god we're in this together all the way from the old to the young and from the cradle to the graveLook to yourself because there's plenty of wealth in us all if we fight the good fight the we gonna have to fall to us allDo you remember the smiles of childhood do they still come once in a while perhaps you're still full of that passion well if you go on then smileChorus
