

half-light

Maitreya

I think I gave away the best of me
Now everything that's left is make believe
Yeah, have a look around
There's nothing here
I'm just about to disappear
Take a breath before we touch
I wouldn't blame you if it's just too much
I've heard it all before it's nothing new
Go on I'll just be seeing you
Is it you? I can just barely see you Cho:
Half-light
I keep fading into the half-light
I know I've been here before and survived
But if you could keep me close in sight
In sight
Halfway
Closer still but I'm still halfway
I'll take your hand
If you think it's okay
Cause I don't want
To lose what's right
This time
To half-light I guess it's no surprise
I'm damaged goods
The fractures all remain misunderstood
I'm waiting for the truth
To set me free
But every time it lies to me
Take it back
'Till it's an epitaph
A thousand words become a photograph
I can't have everything
If something's not broken yet
I try again..and again
'Till nothing's left( Rep. Chorus) Each complication is an all-time low
I'm sort of ready if you're ready
Let me know
There's something chemical in us

And it's just like lightning(Rep.Chorus)
