Sunny Day

Brandy

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by As I sit upon the grass in the shade

I reminisce on what we had

The romance that we shared strolling through the park

Two people in love, walking hand in handBut now that you're gone I feel so alone

All I do is think of you

Till the day you return

It doesn't mean a thingWhat's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes byIt's funny how you learn from your mistakes

Sometimes we take things for granted

But now that I have a change to make it right

I wanna give you, I wanna give you all my loveBut now that your gone I feel so alone

All I do is think of you

Till the day you return

It doesn't mean a thingWhat's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by What's a sunny day?

What's a sunny day that passes by

What's a sunny day?

What's a sunny day that passes by What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by What's a sunny day?

What's a sunny day that passes by

What's a sunny day?

What's a sunny day that passes by What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

What's a sunny day without you?

Just another twenty four that passes by

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/