

Sending Postcards From A Plane Crash (wish You Wer

Fall Out Boy

I am such a sucker and I'm always the last to know
My insides are copper and I'd kill to make them gold
Conversation got me here, another night alone in the city
So make my bed the grave and shovel dirt onto my sheets
Every friend, we ever had in common
I will sever the tie, sever the tie with you
You can thank your lucky stars
That everything I wish for will never come true
When you go, I will forget everything about you
When you go, I will forget everything about you
I've seen sinking ships go down with more grace than you
Turn this up I'll tune you out
Another night alone in the city
Fake it like you matter, that's a lie we can both keep
Every friend, we ever had in common
I will sever the tie, sever the tie with you
You can thank your lucky stars
That everything I wish for will never come true
When you go, I will forget everything about you
When you go, I will forget everything about you
I will forget
(When you go)
(I will forget everything about you)
When you go
(I will forget everything about you)
Every friend, we ever had in common
I will sever the tie, sever the tie with you
You can thank your lucky stars
That everything I wish for will never come true
