Confetti

Cold Cave

Waiting for the stars to align there is a restless rain cloud in my mind heavy eyes fixed in the middle of the room if you're looking to a point for all that you do I feel guilty and alive when so many beautiful people have died I never thought that we wouldn't rule the world I always think we will I keep a fist clenched stilloh I'm coming oh oh I'm coming when you see me you should run and hide oh I'm coming oh oh I'm coming it's an ordinary ...?... on the outsideI know the stars will align if not tonight then some other time sleeping off the shade in the back of a car I tried to get away but the car wouldn't startI may never get it right my chemicals, they balance in some other light I never thought that we wouldn't rule the world I always think we will I keep my teeth clenched stilloh I'm coming oh I'm coming when you see me you should run and hide oh I'm coming oh oh I'm coming ?... on the outside You look so good on the outside You look so good on the outside You look so good on the outside I feel so good on the outside You look so good on the outside I feel so good on the outside You look so good on the outside
