

Through the Other Side

Riverside

So welcome to the No Mans Land
Where you can finally face yourself
Fear of feeling something real
Is your friend now
Theres no need to run So welcome to the No Mans Land
Where nothing is as it seems
Mysteries hidden from you
Six feet under
And six feet above And to feel your heart this way
Before it gets too late The moon began to split in half
And the darkness could be touched
Blindfolded
Youre trying to find a way
To the bottom of your soul But I can see all your scars
That you wish you could hide
And I wont let you remember
What it was like
When you were here before And to hear your voice again
And to feel your touch this way
Before it gets too late

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>