With an Urgency

The Bled

Hey you, young love
Don't let them cut out your tongue
Swallow the key to your heart
And smile through your teethHey you, young love
Don't let them cut out your tongue
It's only over when we
Choose to forgive themGive me your hand
When no one else understands
The day the hostages
Are making demandsWe gave ourselves
When there was nobody else
We found what we were Looking for in the summerI never begged to be immune
To love a heart so out of tune
But I believed you
When you told me I was ruinedAnd if the sun comes up again
I'll be waiting for the others to come in
They'll never take us aliveAnd they can never take away
What keeps you safe
When you're afraid to lose it allJust love and nothing more
Until we love nothing more
Until we loveI never begged to be immune
To love a heart so out of tune
But I believed you
When you told me I was ruinedAnd if the sun comes up again
I'll be waiting for the others to come in
They'll never take us aliveI never begged to be immune
To love a heart so out of tune
But I believed you
When you told me I was ruinedHey you, young love
And all that's left of us
Hey you, young loveHey you, young love
And all that's left of us
Hey you, young love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/