Saturate Me

Mandy Moore

The desert I wander lacks in it's mirage
There's no mistaking at the barrage
Of sand and wind that tears my skin
(Tears my skin)
Leaving what's without exposing what's within
Forsaken, left here
In my barren desolate
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
Rain down on me with life
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
Storm around me, bring the tide
My days stretch long into the heat
(Into the heat)
As sun brightens my defeat
My lips are chapped, they're parched and dry
(Parched and dry)
Yea yea my thirst it builds, with every day gone by
In my barren desolate
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?

Rain down on me with life
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
Storm around me, bring the tide
The dunes that shift, drift and lift in the wind
Cover up my hope, as I start to give in
To the cracks and creases and the dips in my will
As I am pushed toward the brink, I drink down and swill
(Tukta haa)
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
(Won't you saturate me)
Rain down on me with life
(Baby bring me down)
My soul is evaporating

Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
(Yea yea, yea)
Storm around me, bring the tide
(Yea ohh ohh ohh)
My soul is evaporating
Won't you saturate me, won't you saturate me?
Rain down on me with life
My soul
Ohh ohh ohh
