40 Stories

Dishwalla

This life is, harder, so much harder
You say that life has so much weight it wears you down
Higher, your so much higher
40 stories high is such a long way downYou can run - run into the middle
Or you can be still - lean into the ledge
Or you can fall hard as you feel it giving awaySo much insane a deep black hole
The Sun will come and warm your soul
As fast as light the speed of sound
One life one love - down down downHarder, its so much harder
You blame it on your friend you say she let you down
Angel, another angel
You blame it on the bitch you say she let you drownYou can run - run into the middle
Or you can fall hard - as you feel it breaking awaySo much insane a deep black hole
The Sun will come and warm your soul
As fast as light the speed of sound
One life one love - never let them take it awayHigher, your so much higher 40 stories high is such a long way down
