The Formula
Legend
There are leaders and those who only wish to follow and be fed there are strangers with stolen power and there are reasons that come tomorrow and is it natures way for you to run today and be free(chorus) do you want to be a legend or a passing footprint on the sands of time do you want to be a failure or the best example of a man who lived to use his mind - imagine what you could be there are rebels who can't be silenced, they remind us how to see there are prophets, believing visions while many others, put trust in science and there are dreamers who must get through, to your soul(chorus)imagine what you could be with that feeling of symmetry and your eye for beauty then you've faith in the impossible -
There are lovers of skills forgotten by great people - in their haste But there is no one who knows what you do that's the knowledge you should not waste and teachers point the way but only you can find the place(chorus)
