Uncool

Greg Behrendt

Hey
Ah, yeah
Uh huh
Oh yeah
Everybody wannabe a leader but they're following
And it's okay to be uncool
You wouldn't believe it if I told you every time
I wish that I could stop and press undo
It's not a race, slow down before
You run yourself through that door
Just be yourself if you're not sure
Just look inside
Fall into being you
It's okay to be uncool
And if you are then you're a star
Just know that everyone's not you
And if you dance to a different beat
It's okay 'cause it's all you need
You can be anything you wanna be
Even if that's uncool
It's impossible to focus on what you should do
With everybody after you
You build a magic castle and you hide inside from battle
So that nobody can shatter you
Find the space you need to breathe
Wear your heart across your sleeve
Navigate at your own speed
Just look inside

Fall into being you
It's okay to be uncool
And if you are then you're a star
Just know that everyone's not you
And if you dance to a different beat
It's okay 'cause it's all you need
You can be anything you wanna be
Even if that's uncool
Even if it's uncool with them, so what?
You're just not listening

Even if it's uncool with them, so what?
You're still not giving in
You can be anything you wanna be
Even if that's uncool
Everybody wannabe a leader but they're following
And it's okay to be uncool
You wouldn't believe it if I told you every time
That I could stop and press undo
Fall into being you
It's okay to be uncool
And if you are then you're a star
Just know that everyone's not you
And if you dance to a different beat
It's okay 'cause it's all you need
You can be anything you wanna be
Even if that's uncool
