

Running of the Bulls

Red Wanting Blue

So much pressure
Boy it feels like
I've traded dumbbells for skyscrapers
Measure for measure,
We look up and curse heaven,
With our mouths in the gutter
You say that you know where to find
The flaws in my armor
You whisper don't act surprised
I'll never tell
We will not apologize for this
We are what we are
We will not compromise for this
Regret will understand
Bonnie and Clyde
I love when you say
That I'm your partner in crime
You never lie, but a woman's words
Tend to be in disguise
You say that you don't want to hide
The flaw in your armor
If you let me inside
I'll never tell
We will not apologize for this
We are what we are
We will not compromise for this
Regret'll understand
We will not apologize for this
We are what we are
We will not compromise for this
Regret'll understand
Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current
Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current
We will not apologize for this
We are what we are
We will not compromise for this
Regret'll understand
We will not apologize for this
We are what we are
We will not compromise for this
Regret'll understand
Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current
Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current
Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current

Our love's like the running of the bulls
But against the current
