

The Beginning

Billy Ray Cyrus

That day, the day that you walked through my lifes door
Every need that I was praying for was gone
I love, I love that you love me for who I am
And I smile because that ring on your hand
Means Im a lucky manCause I know what Ive been livin for all this time
And I swear I could die right now
Having lived a life and just think
It was only the beginningThat night, the night a little girl would change our life
You looked up at me and cried and smiled as we held our child
I fell, I fell in love with her blue eyes and curls
And I swear to God theres nothing in this world
I wont do for that girlCause I know what Ive been livin for all this time
And I swear I could die right now
Having lived a life and just think
It was only the beginningNow the kids have grew up and growing kids of their own
And the day will come when Ill be gone
When theres nothing left, the pictures and stories
I pray that theyll know who to give the gloryCause I know what Ive been livin for all this time
And I swear if I die right now
Ive lived a life and just think when I see
Oh, just think, you know Ill be
Oh, just think when Im standing in His grace
It is only the beginning
