Blessed With A Curse

Satellite Lot

Ever since this began, I was blessed with a curse
And for better or for worse I was born into a hearse
I know I said my heart beats for you
I was lying girl, it beats for twoBecause I got your love and I got these vices
Take back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, ever said to youEver since this began, I was blessed with a curse
And for better or for worse I was born into a hearse
I know I said my heart beats for you, I was lying girl
I've been lying to youEverything I touch turns to stone
So wrap your arms around me and leave me on my own
Everything I touch turns to stone
So wrap your arms around me and leave me on my ownTake back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, ever said to youBecause everything I touch turns to stone
So wrap your arms around me and leave me
I can't hold onTake back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, every word I've said
Take back every word I've said, ever said to you
Take back every word I've said, ever said to you
