

Hey Love

Miner

we've lost our way; led love astray your window shakes; the wind can wait fallen off of the ledge did you leave me for dead? fell right off of the ledge will I find you again, love? hold up your hands if you hear me I'm coming honey hold on, hold on lift up the sun with your love I've been laying low so long, so long these tangled shapes; our hearts can take your window breaks; our garden fades still, the wind when it blows I can hear, I can hear it you know I know time's movin slow but if you wait, it can save what you love and I know that it's you
