

Rolling Hills

Jill Scott

Verse 1

Maybe you don't recognize what you got between ya thighs, come on.

So I'm gonna set you right, and I'm starting here tonight, well

Shine like the moon and strong like the sea

More expensive then money more valueable then anything

Juicy mango, summer peach

Make a lame man walk and a full man hungry, well, well, well, wellChrous

And if you don't know what I'm sayin then baby I'm tellin you

There's power in them rolling hills, come on

Your a prized possession, not everybody's worthy

Only reason I know cause I headed down that road

And It be a shame for ya not to have ya own glowVerse 2

Maybe you don't recognize what you got between yo eyes

So I'm gonna set ya correset so you can get what you should get, well

Intution something deep

Let ya know what ya know

Let ya find before you seekChrous

And if you don't know what I'm sayin then baby I'm tellin you

There's power in them rolling hills, come on

Your a prized possession, not everybody's worthy

Only reason I know cause I headed down that road

And It be a shame for ya not to have ya own glowThere's power in them rolling hills, come on

Your a prized possession, not everybody's worthy

Only reason I know cause I headed down that road

And It be a shame for ya not to have ya own glowI wanna see ya glow, I wanna see ya grow

I wanna see ya shine
