

Diver

Strung Out

There is a place I know through misery and stone
I'm delirious, neglected and cold
With sadness blossoms overgrown There's a shadow in the garden
Where we sit and wait alone There is a grave beneath the shadows, somber with neglect
Now rises half regret
Where no prayer has been since There's a shadow in the garden
Where the love and I wait
Solid as the day we left it all behind Diver, we'll rise again
Diver, we'll live again
Diver, in the cities we walk the street will open for us And the ruins of another time another world
Freedom's on the way, at the end of it all There's a shadow in the garden
Where the love and I wait
Solid as the day we left it all behind Diver, we'll rise again
Diver, we'll live again
Diver, in the cities we walk the street will open for us Like a dream and darkness reaching out for you
Bone and dust enshrouded velvet me and you To feel the sun against my back
You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd live it all again
You know I wouldn't change a thing
To walk along this place and live You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd do it all again I wouldn't change a single thing
Just like a dream, we'd live again
We'd live again
