Icon of Coil

Embrace the wings that they gave you
I know youve felt the emptiness
Behind your empty words
Your silent screams confused meBehind the mask of pride
There is nothing left
But empty words of loneliness
Its hard to select which wound to heal
And which to infectAnd now you feel the pain is real
You got no one else to blame
Dont let your rain fall down on me
Wish I was there to prove you wrongIts been a while
Since you pulled the plug on me
I try to keep it together
Clenched tight as a fistThe harder I hold, more fragile it gets Everything you touched went up in flames
I doubt that Ill ever forgive
The values that I once had dont seem to existAnd now you feel the pain is real
You got no one else to blame
Dont let your rain fall down on me
Wish I was there to prove you wrong
