Red Hot Chili Peppers

Listen to the Beatles and the sound of laughing Ed McMahon, we got high
Educated by a world so full of self and lost in space, too much pride
Cosmonauts and dirty thoughts are juggling the juggernaut, Soviet Spy
Every now and then when I remember to befriend, the little things in lifeHey you're fine
I wanna listen to the radio
Driving down Calico highway
And now I know the signs for sureHold my hand
I want to share it all with Mary
Results are gonna vary nowLater on I'll read to you the things that I've been needing to say goodbye
Walk away from mom and dad to find the love you never had, tell no lies
Carry on and write a song that says it all and shows it off 'fore you die
Take a little breath before you catch an early death there is so much skyHey you're fine
I wanna listen to the radio
Driving down Calico highway
And now I know the signs for sureHold my hand
I want to share it all with Mary
Results are gonna vary nowSkinny brains and little stains upon your Face teenage remains tell me more
Lifted in the fifties when you really rather drifted through time, let's soarHey you're fine
I wanna listen to the radio
Driving down Calico highway
And now I know the signs, for sureHold my hand
I want to share it all with Mary
Results are gonna vary now
