

She Smells So Nice

The Doors

man, the first woman know she smells so nice and she looks so good i gotta zip up once or twice well i've been down up and up
up and down in 99, but i love my woman like the sun goes up she's the sweetest little woman when she wakes up come on, now right now you walk around and you thinking that you're so tough i see you walking around you think that you're so tough well you got some thing momma, but it's not enough i'm going home i'm going home and lay down i'm going home, baby i'm going home and lay down gonna switch on the television i'm gonna drown, yeah well it's a long time coming long time coming, long time coming
but when you find her baby you know you found something good when you find somebody now, don't leave it no good
