

Angels Fall

Breaking Benjamin

I tried to face the fight within
But it's over
I'm ready for the riot to begin and surrender
I walked the path, it led me to the end, remember
I'm caught beneath with nothing left to give, forever When angels fall with broken wings
I can't give up, I can't give in
When all is lost and daylight ends
I'll carry you and we will live forever, for ever Grey skies will chase the light away, no longer
I fought the fight, now only dark remains forever Divided I will stand
And I will let this end When angels fall with broken wings
I can't give up, I can't give in
When all is lost and daylight ends
I'll carry you and we will live forever, for ever The sun begins to rise and wash away the sky
The turning of the tide, don't leave it all behind
And I will never say goodbye When angels fall with broken wings
I can't give up, I can't give in
When all is lost and daylight ends
I'll carry you and we will live forever, for ever
Forever, forever
