Don't Be Afraid

Steel Pulse

Selwyn D. BrownI gave my pledge to you
And I never forget
The good times and the bad times
And even some regretsTime has passed and we both knew
That there comes a time to change
And tough we're not together
Our love it still remainsSo don't be afraid to say
What you need to tell me
'Cause maybe it's love that will work
This time around
It's easy for you to see
I lay my head on your shoulder
And my heart skips a beat
We've got to find love and make it last
Don't you know...
Don't think about defeatSo don't be afraid to try
Because it's a game where the strong
Do have to dwell
And maybe you'll find yourself
The future's waiting... who can tellThe future's waiting... who can tell
The future's waiting... who can tellSo don't be afraid to try
Because it's a game... where the strong
Do have to dwell
And maybe you'll find yourself
The future's waiting... who can tell
She me love, this yah feeling
Said this love, it's appealing
She me treasure this yah loving feelingSeh me love, this yah feeling
Said this love, it's appealing
And it's gonna stay with meStick around
Settle down
You and me together
Love can be found
