Radiant Star

Samael

Reversed time climb up the side of mystery holding tight the key to nowhereland the long time promise at the beginning the origin aren't we supposed to be bound aren't we prepared to re-cloned the universe we imagine the memory we left behind the time we drain the time we kill what's the need for a better life tell mefrom where you are radiant star light the way of those who search of those who stay from where you are radiant star light the way of those who search of those who pray herespend a day to wonder have a night to remember beyond the pain that each day gives rising the joy that you perceive through blurry thoughts you do conceive a strong passion that won't deceive the force you own needs no shelter nowhere should be the place that you fear nowhere should be the place that you fearfrom where you are radiant star light the way of those who search of those who stay
from where you are radiant star light the way of those who search of those who pray here
