

Brief Innocence

A Telemetry

don't have to tell you time makes it so clear never takes a moment to rest it has no need to care quickly passing by before your in your out

Brief Innocence - how it floats away Brief Innocence - how we drift Brief Innocence - here today gone tomorrow Brief Innocence - a ticket one can't hold won't chase a tempo much to fast to win left holding an empty card that takes you to the end simply lost the try

waist no time - control all means the signals green - the effort to redeem hold the line - no hidden vice the motive is the fein
