Beginning of the End

Forbidden Seed

Staring outside the window yet another day
And still is hard believe
All our lives has changed in so many ways

Hope has left this place

Hate now seems to grow
Getting out of control

Sometimes it scares me
When i think what lies ahead
If we continue to play
The fate of our world in a vicious game
Disguised in democracies name

And still we don't understand
The past will haunt us again
If we don't try to find
All the means to an end

Society is at war
But still we ignore that...

Fire, ash and smoke will fall
A shadow rises again
Stronger than before
Brother hear the final call
As we walk towards our fate
In the path, in the beginning of the end

I'm sick and tired of the new age messiahs
Making a fool out of me
I'm drawing in a sea of madness
This is insanity

And still we don't understand
The past will haunt us again
If we don't try to find
All the means to an end

Hate now seems to grow
But still we ignore that...
