Only You

Mandisa

I've had days that felt like a thousand years
And years that just fly by
I've had times I've been so sure in life
Then nothing worked out rightI've put my hope in so many things
I thought that I would need
But it doesn't mean anything, anything
Anything to meI've been around a crowd of people
And felt so all alone
Tried to give up being different
So that I could just belongSomeone tried to tell me
Who I'm supposed to be
But it doesn't mean anything, anything to meOnly you, you satisfy
Only you are the love of my life
If I got everything I want, no, it still wouldn't do
I gotta whole lotta nothing if I don't got youWhen the mirror doesn't match
The cover of a magazine
And I'm consumed with all my fears
And insecurities'Cause I had my idol for a while
But now I finally see
That it didn't mean anything, anything, noOnly you, you satisfy
Only you are the love of my life
If I got everything I want, no, it still wouldn't do
I gotta whole lot of nothing if I don't got youA whole lot of nothing
Oh, Lord, I believe
It's a whole lot of nothing
If you aren't close to meOnly you, you satisfy
Only you are the love of my life
If I got everything I want, no, it still wouldn't do
I gotta whole lot of nothing if I don't got youOnly you, you satisfy
Only you are the love of my life
If I got everything I want, no, it still wouldn't do
I gotta whole lot of nothing if I don't got youOnly you, you satisfy
Only you are the love of my life
If I got everything I want, no, it still wouldn't do
I gotta whole lotta nothing if I don't got youI gotta whole lotta nothing if I don't have you
I gotta whole lotta nothing if I don't got you
Only you, only you, only you, only you
I got nothing if I don't got you
