

Life's Like Poetry

Dolly Parton

Lifes like poetry but in my poem bay
Until now theres always been a missing line You know life's too short
To hide a good thing you feel
And I find the morning after
Is the best time to determine if its real Baby, finding you
Gave my whole world reason to rhyme
But lifes like poetry and in my poem bay
Until now theres always been a missing line Lifes too short
To think about right or wrong
And the only thing I wonder bout
Is where you been so long 'Cause, baby, finding you
Gave my whole world reason and rhyme
And lifes like poetry and in my poem bay
Until now theres always been a missing line Up till now there's always been a missing line
