Ariannah

Well, I see you life and it's blowing away
Just like the storm that will toss you away
Nothing to lose and baby nothing to win
Just living my life until the very endAnd you won't see me running away
Not this time, I think I'm gonna stay
And I won't be the one who's crying for you
'Cause it's you who loseAnd I see a life that's filled with pain
The human race is engulfed with shame
And all those colors that I see
Melting away right in front of meAnd you won't see me hiding my tears
Not this time, so don't you have no fear
And I won't be the one who's crying for you
'Cause it's you who loseAnd I don't feel so good inside
Take my hand, am I still alive?
Imagination running away from me
From my heart into my TVAnd what you say girl, I just don't care
I'm taking control, you're flying out of here
And I won't be the one who's crying for you
'Cause it's you who lose
