

Ole Fishlips Is Dead Now (2014)

Chiados

Away with the sheets

Exploding like the stars across the skyThis mirror is feeding me lies.

I look so beautiful, but just as desperate.

A victim of the plague with veins reaching to the sky

I'm chewing on my teeth, and staring into a black hole.

Let go of your demonsShe's in love, oh!

She's in love with herself.

...and I never should've trusted someone else with my insides.

Goodbye never feels complete. There's always one word missing.I want to forget you.

You've broken everything I love.

Took all my light, and turned it into dusk

I regret all I gave you.

You've broken everything I love

And I can't wait to be myself again.I feel the separation.

I feel it deep inside my bones.

I know you're snaring beds with strangers in sharp cornersGoodbye never feels complete. There's always one word missing.I want to forget you.

You've broken everything I love.

Took all my light, and turned it into dusk

I regret all I gave you.

You've broken everything I love

And I can't wait to be myself again.Manipulate.

Play with insides.

Splash around in my blood.

Take what you want.

Take what you want from me.This is love. (x2)I want to forget you.

You've broken everything I love.

Took all my light, and turned it into dusk

I regret all I gave you.

You've broken everything I love

And I can't wait to be myself again.This is love. (x5)
