House Arrest

Strike Anywhere

Hear the clock ticks
like the bombs
of history
jail time ticking outside
they keep us treading the lines the stocks and figures
hands shake
then triggers powers-that-be clean up
the waste of our dreams
all your trends,
back ends
and we all know what it means I walk this wasteland with you but it's the least I can do
I walk this wasteland with you and it's the least I can doand they say give it time
while we stand in the lines
and
our anthems
diluted to bind us
trapped in this cage
it defines usfor
a fairer future
these flags we burn
in the name
of 'civilization'
repression unlearnI walk this wasteland with you but it's the least I can do
I walk this wasteland with you but it's the least I can doAll the lines yesterday went by
All the lines yesterday went blindthis toxic nerve

release us
this toxic nerve
release us
this toxic nerve
release
and get us the fuck out of hereI walk this wasteland with you
but it's the least I can doI walk this wasteland with you
and it's the least I can do
