Love Life

Courdek

We said we don't have room in this corner view for two,
So how about three
But English Bay looks nice today,
So mm, what do you say?
The city lights are like paradise and that air,
It's loving tonight
But something inside said to go for a ride,
Just pick up, it's time to move on,

It told me just to love that life, I gave it to you,
Find what's right, I'll show it to you
Just love life, it's alright

If painted faces and sugar-pop kids can dream,
Then why shouldn't we?
The surf keeps ragin'
And we're just agin'
It seems just a little each day
Why we would we wait for the right wave to break on the off chance,
We're already gone?
If love lasts hours
And hurt grows flowers it's all somehow meant to belong

Oh I'm looking for you girl,
And I know you've been looking for me
Let's take coloring books
And a bag of those good looks to the beach
And see what we see, oh

There's so much strife for the afterlife
And when you get it, it's already gone
And it's circumstance that we blame on chance,
And it's chance that we take the blame on Well life takes kicks and those politics,
Watch the church, they're voting out God
But we'll keep our reason
And love each season of change as we just roll along

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by ALLEN, ANDREW

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/