Mind Your Manners

Pearl Jam

I've got an unfortunate feelin', I've been beaten down
I feel I don't believe and now the truth is coming out
What they've taken is more than a vow
They've taken your innocence and then they throw them on a burning fireAll along they're sayin' mind your mannersI caught myself believin' that I needed God
And if it's hard for some we sure could use it nowTry my patience, my patience tried
This world's no longer good enough that makes me wanna cryAll along they're sayin' mind your mannersSilence save himSelf-realized and metaphysically redeemed
May not live another life
May not solve a mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could will it to the sky
Or we could something elseNo longer sayin' mind your manners
Always burningSelf-realized and metaphysically redeemed
May not live another life
May not solve a mystery
Right around the corner
Could be bigger than ourselves
We could will it to the sky
Or we could something elseGo to Heaven
That's swell
How do you like it
Livin' Hell
Go to Heaven
That's swell
How do you like it
Livin' Hell
Go to Heaven
That's swell
How do you like it
Livin' HellLivin' Hell!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/