

Watching from Great Heights

Sundara Karma

Sheltered from the rain
The weather here has changed
But then what's the point of a clear blue sky
When there's trouble on your mind Won't look back again
We've come too far my friend
And it's hard to tell when this journey ends
But there's one thing you gotta know We'll be watching from great heights
And we'll observe the things they hide
Fight the fear we keep inside
The more we seek the higher we'll climb Visions of the clear
Horizon edges near
And I wonder how the high will feel
I'm not cool with coming down Memories have gone
No past to build upon
But there's finer things to be rectified
So let's live and lose ourselves We'll be watching from great heights
And we'll observe the things they hide
Fight the fear we keep inside
The more we seek the higher we'll climb We'll be watching from great heights
And we'll observe the things they hide
Fight the fear we keep inside
The more we seek the higher we'll climb We'll be watching from great heights
And we'll observe the things they hide
Fight the fear we keep inside
The more we seek the higher we'll climb
The more we seek the higher we'll climb
