

More Than Ever

Moonchild

winter was a lovely time for you to come to me, cozy in the cold comfortable and still a little confused, the weight of things untold though the chill has come and gone still I know, you're the only one your lips felt so new I remember, day dreaming of you same stars up above
more than ever, it's you I'm dreaming of listen to the flume and hold me close again, like you're the only one to make me feel like I'll never live again in someone else's arms old love has come and gone but still I know, you're the only one your lips felt so new
more than ever, it's you I'm dreaming of it's you, it's you
