In My Room

Wild Orchid

Silence, here in my room
A symphony in my mind
Shadows dance on the wall
Impossible to confine
Dreams of a happy day gone by
Leave me asking, wondering why
I never saw it there in your eyes, oh why?
I never wanted too much, ooh
I never needed too much
Then in the moment of truth, ooh
The one you thought of was you
Who will save me, oh baby
When the walls come crashing down
In my room?
Voices calling your name
My broken dreams on the ground
Fighting tears as they fall
I'm trying hard not to drown
Dreams of my window open wide
All the nights you crawled inside
How could you let me think you would stay?
Oh, oh yeah, I never wanted too much, oh no
I never needed too much
But in the moment of truth, ooh
The one you thought of was you
Who will save me, oh baby
When the walls come crashing down
(When the walls come crashing down)
In my room? In my room, yeah
Oh no, I never wanted too much, oh
I never needed too much, yeah
But in the moment of truth, yeah
All I can think of is you in my room, oh yes
Ooh, here in my room
In my room
Oh, here in my room, yeah
