Sell Me Out

Bloodsimple

You're all I've known, all I adore
You take all my scars and break my heartAnd I can never look back, never look back, never look back, never look back, never look back again
Ohhh this is the last time you try to justify
For all the reasons you'd sell me outYou're all my heart, my flesh and blood
Night's so lonely without you around meI can never look back, never look back, never look back, never look back, never look back again
Ohhh this is the last time you try to justify
For all the reasons you'd sell me out
This is the last time you try to ease my mind
For all the reasons you'd sell me outI will be your garden plant, your bones
I will be your sovereign kingdom...This is the last time you try to justify
For all the reasons you'd sell me out
This is the last time you try to ease my mind
For all the reasons you'd sell me out, you'd sell me out, you'd sell me out, you'd sell me out
You sold me out
