English

Through the morning fog
In this car of sky blue
I'm going blank and still asleep
The town's washi paper's pattern
With a radio like a movie

And the ramen I ate on the way
I'll never have this moment again
I had a premonition and looked outside

Time is wavering
My heart is flying apart
Catch me
Even if I'm loud, even if I'm silent
You're never satisfied
Look, the sun is already rising

Somehow or another, I'm in pain.
This car of sky blue
I'll park you
In a wonderful place again.
The truth is
I wish I could spoil you a little more.
I'll be back for more.
Thank you, thank you.

The window sparkles
Someone's face appears on my head
Even if I pray, even if I do so out loud
I still lack motivation.
Look, the sun is already rising.

Time is wavering
My heart is flying apart
Catch me
Even if I'm lively, even if I'm asleep
You're never satisfied
Look, the sun is already rising
