

Lullabye for Zoe

Steve Krause

You can lay your head you can dream your dream my love is wrapped around you even when you're fast asleep the sun is getting drowsy sinking toward its home but its memory shines upon you to keep you safe and warm close your eyes

yes you can close your eyes
you can close your eyes

Stars will cast their shadow soft upon your bed but there nothing more than shadows so rest your weary head

Close your eyes

When you feel that love surround you when when sweetest dreams have found you you will know it's just my arms around you and I'm so glad I have found you

Zoe don't you cry
I'm never far from home I see you in your dreams my love so even when you grown
