

Falling Faster

TJ McCloud

How do I know this is love?
How do I know when my heart beats fast enough?

How can I ever be sure
When my heart's been hurt before

How do I know when it's real?
How do you describe what it is unfeeling
What if it's not what I feel?
But I think that this one's different

'Cause I can hardly speak when you're around
Come to think, I can't even feel the ground

'Cause I'm falling faster
Than I've ever fallen before
Feeling so alive
And when I reach the bottom
I just want to
Fall again for you

How many nights have i lay?
While the world is asleep I am wide awake
Wishing for you to whisper my name
Wondering will it ever happen

How many tears have I cried?
How many times have I tried to tell you
I know the song doesn't lie
'Cause I feel forever in you eyes

And I wake up
And I fall right back down
This falling turn this all around
These days I'm feeling like
I'm upside down in love

'Cause I'm falling faster
Than I've ever fallen before
Feeling so alive
And when I reach the bottom

I just want to
Fall again for you
