

Millionaires Against Hunger

Red Hot Chili Peppers

We're millionaires against hunger I'm a millionaire and I got something to say
I got a million more that'll take me away
All the other ones' bills starting to percolate
As far as I'm concerned, why that's okay Well, I'm a millionaire too but not like you
As far as I'm concerned, I got a job to do
I've got to pave the way, I've got to save the day
I've got to make it better, I've got to say You and I, we're millionaires but we're a million miles away
From the saint who stares
Upon the millions who die, everyday of the week
Just because they can't get enough to eat While we the rich dine on all these feasts
And everything's fine, yeah, peaches and creme
But it just isn't something you've got to realize
There's something wrong, we've got to open our eyes
When the world cries, we just can't hide
We've got a job to do, we've got to save some lives We're millionaires against hunger Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Twice as nice when you share
Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
A spiritual price do you care Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Dice the mice when you share
Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Pave the way, take the dare I'm a millionaire and I got something to say
I got a million more that'll take me away
All the other ones' bills starting to percolate
As far as I'm concerned, why that's okay Well, I'm a millionaire too
All I know that is true is that I've got more cash than I can use
I want anything that I can have but I don't need nothin' and I never have Each damn day my heart's set far but I'll be okay 'cuz I don't starve Kids from the street the losing their emotion
So damn snobby so out of touch
With two hungry people who die as they stare at the city at night
You know it gives to share So listen up, you millionaires
Every woman, every man, help all you can
All races unite and I will now concern
To the type of problem that helps us learn We're millionaires against hunger Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Twice as nice when you share
Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
A spiritual price do you care Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Dice the mice when you share
Hey, hey, Mr. Millionaire
Pave the way, take the dare
