Waves

Slowdive

Watch the waves so far away
They're washing across the paths that I have madeLeaving all my sins, I turn away
Like soaring birds, I watch my sorrows playDon't you know, I've left and gone away
You're knocking on the door I closed today
And everything looks brighter
Waves at play, just sooth my pain awayFelt so good to see the sun
I choose my time before I choose the wineFloating across the waves, the silence runs
My thoughts can cure but now my sorrow's doneDon't you know, I've left and gone away
You're knocking on the door I closed today
And everything looks brighter
Waves at play, they sooth my pain away
