Crying Game

Professor Green

I think that I have played this game before
It's been a little while
So I'm no that sure
Maybe they changed the box a bit
Put a few more pieces inside of it
The names have changed to ones
I'm not familiar withBut I know it's the same game
Although the faces change
It must be 'cause it plays the same
First up and down and then the bag
This is the one because I recognize the painPre-Chorus:
At the end
I don't win againChorus:
Crying game who wants to play / When all there are
Are losers / And if you choose it
You'll always lose it / The crying game
Who wants to play / The crying game
When all there are / Are losers
Glimpse of the sun / Eternal rain
The crying game / All it brings it painVerse 2:
Thought I would have learned my lesson then Back when I was young and we were more like friends
Though my heart still felt the pain from then Sure enough I let you back again
Will I allow myself to let this cycle endAnd I have no one to blame
I guess cupid lost his aim
Must have hit me in my let again
My knees get weak and I begin
To persuade myself to be the one to love againPre-Chorus:
I can't bare
That you don't care anymoreBridge:
Free me from all of my dark despair
Grant me 3 wishes so that I can be anywhere but here
Storms of life evacuate my heart
Because the lessons you teach with the people I meet
Are tearing me apart

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/