Uncivil Hands

Morning Again

move towards the light freedom achieved with time uncivilized hands tainted far too deep by a remembrance of the past a product of your world a product of this world will this stain remain will it always be the same a life free from pain cannot exist with all that surrounds vs an example cannot be set of what's right with all that surounds vs a product of your worldwe can't always rebuild all that has been destroyedi was what you made mepeaceful existance denied wash these uncivil handsmy statement of life in a dying worldi've moved toward the light i've seen it over time uncivilized hands become tainted from my past i find
