

Live for What I'd Die For

Jess Mills

I wanna love the one I never dared to,
Speak the words I hid away,
Wanna say each word how I would say your name
I wanna say the things that I was scared to, shout them high, see where they fall.
Let it make no sense, but never care at all.
My heart is beating to a rhythm,
that nobody else can hear,
but I can hear it, I can hear it clear.
If you can see me now, am I who you'd want me to be? I'm gonna live for what I'd die for.
Still I'm pushing for fight to feel that I'm alive, every day.
I'm gonna live for what I'd die for,
like I'm fighting for my life. Will I know I did it right, when its taken away? I wanna step onto the high wire, hundred miles above the ground, to walk the line but never to look down.
So thats where they can find me,
between the clouds and the sky,
That is where I'm gonna watch the world go by.
If you can see me now, am I who you'd want me to be? I'm gonna live for what I'd die for.
Still, I'm pushing for fight to feel that I'm alive, every day.
I'm gonna live for what I'd die for,
like I'm fighting for my life. Will I know I did it right, when its taken away?
